Wind Checks Nfld. Fire

BUCHANAN, Nfld., July 5.—(CP)—Townsfolk in this mining centre of some 3,000 turned out en masse today to battle a fire menace that began in under-10 brush.

Firemen and volunteer workers were unable to check the flames at first but then a wind shift came to their rescue and averted the destruction of homes or other property.

Although the fire was still burning this afternoon it was believed immediate danger had passed and only skeleton crews maintained watch near the railway station. No injuries were reported.

The blaze began yesterday and all available men in the lead and zinc mining area turned out when it veered towards the town, fanned by a strong breeze.

Only her husband, garage janitor Fred Madsen, was down at the airport to see Mrs. Madsen and 15-month-old Terry off.

Holiday Toll Reaches 103

A fatality toll of 103 was recorded in Canada during the combined Dominion Day - Independence Day week-end.

A Canadian Press compilation showed that by early today 59 persons were drowned, 27 died in highway crashes, two in a plane wreck and 15 in other types of mishaps.

Ontario, with 43 fatalities, had the largest number of violent deaths. Quebec had 40. British Columbia eight, the Maritimes five, Manitoba four and Alberta three.

In Ontario and Quebec, particularly, many of the drownings were directly attributed to a heat wave which in many areas pushed the temperature above the 90-degree mark.

Six men were drowned in two separate mishaps in northern B.C.

WOMAN CAUGHT

Potato Patch Chase Wins Back $1,270

Chase through a potato patch last night after a woman who allegedly snatched his wallet was worth $1,270 in John Woloshynuk, of Mundare.

Woloshynuk told police a woman who visited him at the Union Rooms last night slipped his wallet from his hip pocket, and fled from the building.

He gave chase and caught up to her in a rear alley where two unidentified men intervened and permitted her escape.

Woloshynuk followed her as she ran between two houses near 102 Avenue and 50 Street and saw her throw her purse into a potato patch.

He recovered the purse and found his wallet inside it. The wallet contained a cheque for $500 and $340 when it was recovered, but Woloshynuk said $110 in cash was missing.

In another recent theft, Mrs. L. M. Peters, 5902 85 Avenue, reported the loss of a $10 pearl and amethyst pin and $20 in cash from her suite at that address.

Legislature To Guard Resources

Special Session Moves To License Exports of Gas

At the opening of the special session of the legislature here they gave first reading to six bills to preserve and conserve Alberta's natural gas and oil resources.

The proposed legislation leaves gas export in the hands of the cabinet by proposing to license all companies desirous of exporting natural gas.

It cuts out waste of gas and oil resources by widening of the powers of the Conservation Board.

It provides for provision of oil and gas production to meet "reasonable market demand" and for fixing of allowances for each oil pool. Each owner will be given the opportunity of obtaining an equitable share of production of any pool.

It gives the Public Utilities Board power to fix retail prices of natural gas and pipe line charges for pipe lines which have been declared public utilities.

It defines pipe line companies as common carriers, subject to rigid conservation regulations in all parts of the pipe line systems, including tanks, reservoirs, pumps, racks and storage and loading facilities.

2 ACTS REPEALED

Heat, Showers Ahead Today

Another hot day is forecast for Alberta today, but light showers this afternoon may aid crops and reduce forest fire danger.

Some rain fell overnight in widely separated parts of Alberta.

Nearly one-third of an inch of moisture was recorded in Peace River region. Crops in this area only Alberta district receiving adequate rainfall this season are now near normal.

Conditions are still far from satisfactory in most of the province.

On a general basis the crop picture in Canada appeared to have improved considerably since rain fell in Manitoba were heavy and nearly all early-seeded fields were heading or in seed.

Rain had brought relief to the drought area of central Alberta, but in west-central part a tight feed situation is anticipated with continuing dry weather.

A good harvest was anticipated in the southeastern parts of Alberta and especially in the Peace River district.

British Element Lessens in Empire

Higher Living Standards At Home May Cut Emigration

By Stuart Underhill

LONDON, July 5.—(CP)—The British element in commonwealth countries overseas is likely to diminish in coming years, says the report of a royal commission on population, recently published.

BIGGEST STIMULANT

"The most powerful stimulant of all to emigration would be a worsening of Great Britain's economic position," the report says.

Emigration might be encouraged by special inducements, but the final factor would be whether the receiving country had higher standards of living to offer than Britain.

In this event the ideal arrangement would be for Britain to work out at the same time an immigration policy which would ensure that the needs of the rest of the commonwealth for manpower were met as far as possible from people of British stock and that Great Britain was the main source of immigrants for the rest of the commonwealth.

That is, the report says, the larger population would take on as much as possible of the problem of assimilating people of other than British stock.

SOURCES LIMITED

Sources of supply of suitable immigrants were limited.

In estimating Britain's emigrant potential at 65,000 a year, the commission records that if the birthrate here remains at its present level, the annual number of persons reaching the age of 20 will be 650,000. Not more than 10 per cent a year could be expected to emigrate; in fact, that rate was higher than the average for the 19th century.

"It is not to be expected, therefore, that the other parts of the commonwealth could rely on emigrants from Great Britain alone to maintain their pre-war rate of growth."

It urges a conference to consider the matter of vital controls to the whole commonwealth.

The report says that Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa need a total of 226,000 immigrants a year to increase their populations at a rate of two per cent annually. Britain can be expected to supply not more than 65,000 annually.

CANADA'S NEEDS

Canada needs 116,000 immigrants a year to achieve the two per cent increase, which would double the population in 35 years, the report says. At its present rate of natural increase (without immigration) Canada's population would be only 16,000,000 by 1980.

The commission says it has no doubt that it is in the long run interests of Great Britain and the commonwealth as a whole to maintain the flow of emigrants from Great Britain to other parts of the commonwealth at as high a level as possible.

But the trend toward smaller families and increased social security in Britain discouraged emigration.

ON SPORT

Just Like Sing Sing?

Best story to come out of the major league tryout camps of last spring—and the yarn undoubtedly was spurious—naturally had a Brooklyn background. It seems a pair of would-be Dodger hopefuls took time out for a look around their highly regimented wire-enclosed practice field at Vero Beach, Fla.

Wire here. More wire there. Wire, wire everywhere as the fielders floundered in one enclosed section, the hitters got their instructions in another, a sliding pit occupied a third, and so on.

Players coming and going in clocklike fashion—according to plan—you might say. Instructors doing everything but ring traditional school bells as they saw to it that the several hundred youngsters went through their paces without loss of precious time.

"Shake it up, son. On the double, you. Where's the fire, fella?" So went the chatter as members of the faculty kept pupils in high gear hour after hour.

Little wonder, then, that one of the aforementioned hopefuls supposedly turned to his equally impressed pal and said:

Pace Will Be Slower

Well, it won't be quite like Vero Beach when another Brooklyn school opens at Renfrew Park tomorrow. There won't be nearly the mass regimentation, for one thing.

Heads of the school—Charlie Smith, Tom Lillico and Don Lindeberg—won't be expected to gear their activities and those of their students to the feverish pace of a Florida spring camp.

Nevertheless, a "business-as-usual" atmosphere will attach itself to Renfrew as the Brooklyn Kollege of Knowledge operates over a three-day span.

Make no mistake. These men are just as keen, maybe a little more so, to turn up a future great at the Edmonton tryouts as they would be on the other side of the line.

Long since ballfossors of the stripe of George Selkirk, Jeff Heath, Phil Marchiondo, Dick Fowler and others proved that Canadian-born kids can play baseball right alongside their U.S. brothers.

What's more, Canada whiz-kids, when you finally flush 'em from the bushes, come a lot cheaper than the bonus-wise Antonellis, Wakefields, Houses and so on that spring from the better known diamond highways.

For instance it cost no more than carfare and bare expenses for Renfrew to take Dick Lowe, Paul Peterson, Glen Gorbous and other Albertans to their camps last spring.

Can He Throw and Run?

And by what yardstick will the Brooklyn talent hunters measure a kid? What will they look for before running even a mild temperature over his prospects?

A good arm, to start. Many baseball men make no bones about it. "If a boy can't throw," they emphasize, "he can't play baseball."

He must be able to run, to leg it.

Third in importance, possibly, come hitting and fielding. Reason of course is obvious. While you can't give a kid an arm nor put a motor in his legs, you sometimes can teach him to get the jump on the ball.

Such tricks as this will improve his fielding.

Also, although this is deemed problematical, he can be shown a game plan calculated to improve his efforts with the bat. Admitted an all-American out seldom can be converted into a .400 swat artist. But a .250 hitter might be brought up to .280 or .300, even.

Finally any young fellow contemplating sitting in on the school at Renfrew would do well to remember that a high premium will be placed on eagerness and hustle.

The shoes a kid has on may be several sizes too large and his glove and uniform hand-me-downs. He may boot the ball all over the lot and take on like a prize easy-mark at the plate.

But if he's got that all-out college try, that spirit messrs. Smith, Lillico and Lindeberg won't quit on him quite so soon as otherwise.

Walkie Bats Explode As Burns Beaten 15-2

Sam Stevenson's Walk-Rites unleashed an 18-hit attack, heaviest barrage seen in Kingsway fastball park this season, as they trampled Burns 15-2 in a Senior Ladies' Fastball league game last night.

Seventeen hits, made by Walkies as many trips to the plate, scoring four times as well. Ina Ward, with three hits, was tops of the others although five more got two blows. Catcher Minnie Wilson and third sacker Audrey Wellman, who only played two innings, couldn't break into the hit column.

After Burns had put together three hits for the game's first run in the opening frame, winners jumped on starting pitcher Terry Pomeroy, of the meet packers, for eight hits and six runs in the bottom half of the inning. Five more runs crossed in the third, the top of the line number of hits, one walk and two errors.

Nellie Smith took over at this stage and held the rampaging Walkies to four tallies over the rest of the route. Burns coasted to an easy mound victory.

Moore broke loose for four runs in the last half of the sixth inning to topple the RCAP 7-4 in a Senior Men's fixture.

Airmen, down 5-1 going into the sixth inning, evened the count but couldn't hold the judgement in check.

Jack Conroy was touched for two hits, including a pair of triples, but lasted to gain credit for the Moose victory. Lee Lewis was the loser.

Better Market Routes Sought in Rocky Area

THIS IS THE MODERN frame for what can be pictured at Calmar. Population is double, streets are lined with cars, it has moved from hamlet to village. Farmers built it and it has made it grow.

Building Village Worrisome Task

CALMAR, July 5.—There are four men in this place whose names will go down in local history. They are putting Calmar on its feet as a village and their problem at the moment is not only framing bylaws but getting somebody to enforce them, and the citizens accustomed to them.

As a hamlet, Calmar dates to 1906. It is a village it dates to last January, and what has happened in between is a tribute to grit of the farmers. At the same time, it shows what oil can do in a place, for in the past two years, since the wealth that wellers was found, Calmar, the place has doubled its population to 1906.

BAD FIRE LOSS

Four years ago about a third of the business area was wiped out by fire. It was rebuilt right pronto, and village officials point to it as a credit to the farmers.

But in the past two years driller's rigs operating out of Calmar, 20 miles west of Leduc, have made a big difference. Payroll was previously only from merchants, but now it runs in the thousands.

It has brought hundreds to the area, some new businesses and has expanded others. It even meant the place got a station agent to keep the four elevator operators company down by the track.

Now it is getting a lot more. The village water and sewerage system is in the blueprint stage. The village is interested in getting gas for heating.

NEW BYLAWS

It is getting itself straightened out for the future with scavenging, zoning bylaws, a fire protection system and a complete assessment.

And the men who are doing most of the worrying—Mayor N. Hrenok, councillors J. Beddick and A. Dixon and secretary George Blomdell, who will probably be known as fathers of Calmar—say that in this case oil only nurtured what farming built.

For proof of that they point to fact that village lots sold for as much before oil as they do now, and use semi-improved farm of 360 acres with no connection with oil whatever, sold for $13,000.

Cripps Favors Payment Plan

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE, July 5.—This place with the picturesque name is out to beat its road problems.

At meeting of the board of trade, H. Connors, district engineer, and his foreman, J. Peebles, explained problems facing the department.

For one thing, it is difficult to decide just where main market roads should go, for once the location of a market road was decided, building could start.

Mr. Connors suggested that each district appoint three men to decide on the best place for main roads, and then the engineers could go on from there, for once the location of a market road was decided, building could start.

He said that roads here cost much more than in eastern parts of the province because of the brush cutting. Members of the board of trade pointed out that the government gets up to $30,000 a year in gas taxes alone from the district from the trucks hauling lumber, ties, poles and other timber, and therefore the area should get a much larger grant.

Dustier roads were mentioned, but the farmers said they could wait if they get an all-weather road.

A repair and maintenance depot will be set up in Rocky this summer.

Officials said they hope to strike a happy medium between noise that distracts home listeners and silence which is a complete deadening effect on their performance.

HOSPITAL AID IS BUSY

Morinville Club After Road Lane

Traffic Light Is Also Suggested At Railway Crossing

MORINVILLE, July 5.—The Morinville Lions club is petitioning the department of highways for improved conditions in the area.

The club is particularly interested in traffic problem on No. 2 highway and with the level crossing situation in the community.

At a meeting it passed resolutions concerning each problem and these are being forwarded not only to highways department, but to the traffic board, A.M.A. Alberta Motor Transport Association, department of public works and the municipal district.

CROSSING LIGHTS
The club is asking for installation of crossing lights at the railway crossing south of Morinville. It is considered a grove of trees and a residence blocks vision of motorists from the west.

With regard to hard-surfaced No. 2 highway, the club asks that a white centre line be painted on the road. In its petition it draws attention to the fact that traffic is travelling at excessive speed and a recent accident south of Morinville took three lives.

HOME UP FOR SALE DESTROYED BY FIRE

Mr. and Mrs. McKie have lived for 30 years, and had just listed their place for sale, planning on retiring. Cause of the fire is thought to have been the chimney. Insurance was carried.

IN OUR Province

EDMONTON BULLETIN, Tuesday, July 5, 1949

THIS HAS BEEN a familiar scene on Leduc streets since spring as contractors lay pipes for water and sewer systems. It is expected sewer connections to houses will start at month-end.

Leduc Will Soon Get Water Setup

LEUDIC, July 5.—Leduc's continued growth looks like a pipe cinch.

Contractors are busy putting in sewer and water mains and they are not sure just when they will finish because citizens are applying for extensions faster than they can get equipment.

It is anticipated the setup will serve 225 homes. About 25 C.M.A. homes are among them. The project will cost about $120,000.

The sewer line has been completed with exception of connections to houses and it is expected the water line will be completed by July. It will take a month to finish the service connections.

RED DEER, July 4.—Big contest this week in Red Deer will be the highland gathering at the exhibition grounds on Wednesday, July 6, under joint auspices of the Red Deer Highland Dancing association and the Red Deer Athletic association.

There will be a full program of dancing and piping events starting at 9:30 in the morning.

There is a heavy entry in the piping and dancing events and competition promises to be as keen as in recent years. Entries were slow for the athletic events, but picked up in the past few days. Quite a strong contingent of boys and girls is coming from Edmonton.

Interest is quickening in the tug-of-war and a number of teams are expected from the city and surrounding districts.

EXTEND ENTRIES
Date for taking entries has been extended to accommodate contestants, and entries will be taken on Tuesday, July 5, at the most although sponsors would like to have them earlier if possible. Forms for papers and entries are obtainable from Mrs. T. W. Clay 492-47 Street, Red Deer, and forms for track and field are obtainable from Jarvis Miller 482-366 avenue, Red Deer.

Athletic events are sanctioned by the Alberta branch, A.A.U. of Canada, and the W.A.A.F. of Canada.

on the TOWN

By J. D.

When I was a little shaver I would run a mile to watch a train thunder by. The youngster of today goes through a similar performance when he hears the roar of an airplane. I drove my folks almost out of their minds "whistling" like old 404 and imitating the s-s-h-o-o-t of an engine so realistically that it fooled a good many people.

Your youngster of today goes through a similar routine only he makes noises that are even more weird. He's either a North Star airplane or whooshing around the house as a Vampire jet.

He runs to the door and cranes his neck toward the sky; at the sound of a plane. The iron horse is still of interest but the airplane holds first place in the boy's affections.

All of which gets us around to The Edmonton Bulletin Junior Air Show to be held at Namasu 2 report July 15.

First prize is an expensive trip to Toronto where the grand champion will compete in the Canadian National Model Aircraft contest.

ARMINDED CITY

Edmonton has been long noted as an armined city. And our youngsters are armined. If you don't believe they are, just stop and listen to a bunch of teenagers when the subject of planes and flying comes up. "I'll bet your kid can tell you more about types, speeds, range and the like than you could learn in the rest of your life."

And building model planes and flying same, it's all stuff either. The youngsters are right. If you don't believe they are, just stop and listen to a bunch of teenagers when the subject of planes and flying comes up.

On a small scale they must learn what the big boys know. Aeronautical engineers must learn. To build a successful model plane a youngster has to have far more than just a superficial knowledge of aerodynamics.

He must get his teeth into the intricate problems of navigating the vast air ocean.

BUILDS CHARACTER TOO

The youngster who goes in for building and flying model aircraft isn't likely to be up in juvenile court next week.

Scientific study of any kind builds mental discipline which is just what our nameless young fliers need.

Grant McConachie told me he was "nuts" about airplane names. The first time he saw one, Grant stayed crazy about airplanes.

Today he's building a great world airline and he's still simply "nuts" about airplanes.

The Bulletin's Air Show on July 15 is going to be a big affair. It's going to mean proud joy and a thrilling prize. The grand winner and many good prizes to runners-up.

But above all it is going to provide satisfaction to the youngsters whether they win or lose.

It will be a fine thing for our youngsters and their parents.

More Building Will Follow Land Sales Here

Land sales made by the city land department at the week end will result in a $111,000 building program.

The construction projects resulting from these sales include a $30,000 apartment block; a $10,000 service station and garage building; and eight houses.

Total of sales was $7,445.

J. P. Fitzgerald, 6 Tweedsmuir Crescent, purchased property at the south west corner of 126 street and Stony Plain Road as the site of $50,000 apartment building.

Jan and Risa J. Pomietalski, 9515 104 avenue, bought property at the north east corner of 126 street and 118 avenue as the site of a $10,000 garage and service station.

Edmund S. Welch, 12503 91 street, bought two parcels of land at sites for eight houses, five of which will cost $6,000 and three $7,000.

Margarine Ghost Haunts Special Gas, Oil Session

Ghost of the spring session—margarine—was in the legislative chamber when the special session convened at 10 a.m. legislative building yesterday.

Just before proceedings began, newspaper clipping of a British news report circulated among members, started on its way by Peter Chaba (SC, Redwater) and J. F. Dehoul (SC, Spirit River).

The report described the successful escape from prison of a British convict who coated himself with margarine and literally slipped through jail bars.

"At last this is a use for margarine," chuckled Fred Colburn (SC, Calgary) who supported government measures to

Alleged Slayer Calm Day After Killing

Michael Joseph Hayes, accused of the murder of William W. McKay here last Thursday, was self assured and in excellent spirits the afternoon following the West Jasper Place axe-murder.

Both the gravediggers hired by Hayes were agreed on this point when interviewed by the Bulletin yesterday afternoon.

The two young men, Ernest E. Hogan, 22, 2628 82 avenue, met Hayes the afternoon after the murder in a downtown beer parlor.

He offered them each to dig a hole in his front yard.

NOT SUSPICIOUS

"We weren't suspicious at all," said Hogan. "He didn't seem nervous in any way. He only smoked one cigarette all the time we were there. He laughed and joked and said he was going to work."

Hayes the afternoon after the murder in a downtown beer parlor.

He offered them each to dig a hole in his front yard.

Only thing that might have appeared suspicious was the fact that the tall, dark, smooth-talking army veteran contradicted himself in explaining why he wanted the hole dug.

"First of all it was for a sewer. Then it was a septic tank and finally it was going to be for a gas main," said Eglinski.

NO BLOODSTAINS

Both men were in the kitchen of the Hayes house home. They reported seeing bottles and signs of a recent party but no bloodstains or indications of violence.

They did not see Mrs. Hayes but think she may have been confined in the other room.

Originally Hayes had told them to dig a hole seven feet deep, they said. But when a taxi arrived about 5 p.m. to take them back to town, the alleged murderer appeared somewhat agitated and told them to quit although the hole was then only four feet deep.

REPORTED TO RCMP

Both boys voluntarily reported to the RCMP when they learned of the killing. Their statements were taken and it is assumed they will be called to testify at the trial.

The boys' reactions differed when they learned they had dug a grave intended for the body of William W. McKay, who was brutally slain early Thursday morning in the Hayes home.

Eglinski said he was shocked. "It just about knocked me over when I saw it in the paper Saturday," he said.

NOT BOTHERED

But Pogue took the news casually. He was seemingly little affected by the realization that a dead man had lain only a few feet away under a thin coating of soil.

He remarked he had recognized the hole immediately when he saw the picture in the Bulletin.

Asked if he would be willing to dig any more grave-like holes, he replied, "Sure. As long as they're called holes, I'll dig 'em for $10 for half an hour's work."

Sole woman member attending opening of the special legislative session, Mrs. C. R. Wood (SC, Stony Plain) was of the "no hat" school yesterday. Unlike House of Commons where custom demands no uncovered heads among women members or spectators, Alberta negative principal permits wearing of hats to be a matter of choice. Mrs. Wood followed the halcyon, casual style and had plenty of support from bareheaded women in the galleries.

Social Credit party rebel Arthur Way (Ind. SC, Banff-Cochrane) made a valiant attempt to lead legislative discussions away from gas and oil conservation and export matters when he spoke to the speech from the throne yesterday. In his address he touched upon—besides the chief theme of the special session—housing, automobile prices, and atomic energy.

Unsuccessful in his efforts, he could not claim complete attention of government members. One cabinet minister came fortified with a "farm" magazine and a horticulture article, showed a colleague a cartoon and finally flipped over to the puzzle page.

Money Bills Creep Into Gas Session

Calgary's paving program and transit system reconstruction took legislative attention from gas and oil conservation and export yesterday.

Legislators at the special session of the Alberta house which opened here yesterday to consider legislation to preserve and conserve Alberta's natural resources, also dealt with a money bill to speed civil improvements in Calgary.

FIRST READING

They gave first reading to a bill to validate two Calgary by-laws and to declare valid debentures issued to a total of $2,350,000 to cover paving and transit asset improvements.

By-laws to permit the expenditure of $2,175,000 on the transit system and $1,175,000 on paving scheme were previously approved by Calgary voters.

They were nullified by the city of Calgary's failure to make application to the Board of Public Utilities Commissioners for issuing of debentures prior to the vote.

The new act will validate the by-laws and ratify the issuing of debentures as originally intended.

Defence Opens Case In $100,000 Damage Suit

UP, UP and over went this city husky yesterday as city recreation commission got its summer program off to flying start. Youth is one of hundreds taking part in daily schools at Clarke Stadium and South Side Athletic park.

Summer Sport School Off to Flying Start

Recreation commission's summer school of sport, to run daily, got underway at Clarke Stadium and South Side Athletic grounds yesterday.

With Clarence Melbye, Eskimo mound star in charge, the "seabirds" who presented themselves at the South Side played some baseball and also received instruction in certain techniques of the game.

Melbye led his group to the track and field pit for some high jumping and broad jumping.

At the same time the head man made plans to construct a horse-shoe pitch and putting green.

SAME AT CLARKE

Paproski followed much the same pattern at Clarke Stadium. His turnout was somewhat larger than Melbye's.

Both Melbye and Paproski, along with Steve Mendryk, Jack Reilly and other Recreation Commission officials in direct charge are hopeful the summer school of sports will "catch on" as the holidays go along.

Long List Of Offenders In Court

Minor offenders paid out $240 in fines in police court today as 95 citizens faced charges on petty traffic and dog-law violations.

For two hours in the afternoon session Magistrate McCulla passed out fines ranging from $25 to $1 as a steady stream of accused filed in.

Out of the 95 appearing on charges, 60 drew fines. Cases with offenders numbered 24, and remanded, 11.

Offenders covered parking meter violations, driving without hearing a license, and dog-law violations, including one case of dog fighting on cars.

In addition to an interesting routine of studies, there will be singing, games and handicraft.

Two Defendants Heard As Case Nears End

Frank W. Schmuck, displaced managing director of the Alberta Oxygen and Acetylene Co. Ltd., yesterday afternoon heard two of his former business associates brand him as "inefficient."

Charges were part of testimony from the witness box as Bruce Smith, K.C., opened the case for the defence in the $100,000 suit brought against directors and former directors of the Edmonton firm by Schmuck.

Both L. A. Cavanaugh and Colin D. MacKenzie of Calgary expressed themselves as dissatisfied with the management of Alberta Oxygen and Acetylene Co. Ltd.

Their dissatisfaction, they swore, was due to the lack of co-operation and efficiency of Mr. Schmuck, who is seeking to be re-established as president and custodian of the company.
